Easter Week Church Services

Holy Week observances in Carmel Protestant churches continue with Maundy Thursday services this evening at All Saints' Episcopal Church and the Church of the Wayfarer. Good Friday services will be held at All Saints', the Church of the Wayfarer and Carmel Presbyterian Church.

Following is an account of all services in all churches.

ALL SAINTS

This evening at All Saints' Church at 8:00 o'clock there will be a Solemn Celebration of the Holy Communion in honor of the Institution of the Blessed Sacrament at The Last Supper. The altar and crucifix will be covered in white. The choir will sing selections from Eric Thiman's cantata, The Last Supper, directed by Robert Forbes.

Tomorrow morning at 10:00 o'clock a Good Friday Meditation for Children will be led by the rector, the Reverend David Hill. The children's choirs, conducted by Mr. Forbes and Mr. and Mrs. Donnelly Fenn, will participate.

From noon until 3:00 o'clock (Continued on Page Sixteen)

Concours Saturday Boasts Greatest U. S. Rolls Royce Show

The largest collection of Rolls Royces, from vintage cars of 1910 to the present, to be seen outside England, will be included in the 11th Annual Pebble Beach Concours d'Elegance on the lawn at De Monte Lodge, Pebble Beach Saturday from 11:00 in the morning to 4:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

Total entries of fine cars, all makes and dates to the latest number 110 and the number of judges has been increased to 17. Classes: four of European sports cars; under $2500; $2501 to $4500; $4501 to $10,000; and over $10,000. American production sports cars. (Continued on Page Thirteen)

Art Plaxton Sets April 18 Date For Annual Dog Party

Art Plaxton, assistant city clerk, announced this week that he will hold his annual "dog lawn party" a month earlier this year, on the afternoon of April 18, 2:00 to 4:00 o'clock, city hall parking lot.

All dogs must be attended by a member of the human race, and to receive a license ($2.00) must have a rabies vaccination certificate less than two years old. There will be several veterinarians present who will vaccinate uncertificated dogs on the spot at a fee yet to be determined. Last year it was $1.00.

Mr. Plaxton offers a special inducement for pet owners who do their dog license shopping early. After the May 31, the fee jumps from $2.00 to $3.00.

"And it's worth the license tag price for identification purposes. If your dog strays, you want him back, don't you?" Mr. Plaxton urges. Besides, though dogs are permitted to roam in the residence (Continued on Page Sixteen)

Easter Gloom Likely To Doom Quarter System

Nobody can say for sure what the school board will do about it when they meet Wednesday night, but if they follow the recommendations of teachers, parents, administrators, and School Superintendent Stuart Mitchell, they will dump the "quarter system" school calendar that produced this week's woe and adopt the conventional, traditional two semester calendar for 61-62, with all of Holy Week for vacation.

Police Chief Says Of Young Visitors: "Wonderful Kids"

With Easter vacation juvenile disturbances intensified in other California towns, Carmel is enjoying its quietest Holy Week in many years, though there are more young people in town from the San Francisco Bay Area and the San Joaquin Valley than ever.

"We're getting the good kids," Chief of Police Clyde Klaumann explains. "Early in the week we picked up several with beer. The 18 year olds we took into court; and sent for the parents of those under 18."

"The other kids gave them the laugh: 'How stupid can you get?' they asked them."

There were lots of bonfire parties on the beach, Chief Klaumann reported, "but no liquor. Wonderful bunch of kids. Seem to realize they can have a good time without liquor."

School And College Board Candidates On AAUW Forum, April 13

Ted Fehring, chairman of the board of trustees of the Carmel Unified School District, will be moderator for the Meet Your Candidates forum sponsored by the Monterey Peninsula branch, American Association of University Women, on April 13 in Sunset School cafeteria, 8:00 o'clock in the evening.

All candidates for the Carmel Unified School District Board, the Monterey Peninsula Junior College District Board, and the Monterey County School Board have been invited to speak, according to Miss Eleanor Henry, chairman of the AAUW community service committee. Mrs. Sidney Kalmbach, Mrs. George Purvis and Mrs. Norman Oleson are in charge of the Carmel meeting. Local P-TA units will assist by notifying all parents in the district.

All voters in Carmel district are invited to attend. There will be a question and answer period following the speeches.

Carmel school board candidates are Clayton Neill Jr., Dr. Robert E. Newton, Laurence P. Horan, Mrs. John Taylor and Arthur Templeman. There are two vacancies.

Mark Raggett is the only Carmel district candidate among nine persons running for two places on the junior college board. The election will be the first since the junior college district became Peninsula-wide, following the annexation of Carmel and Pacific Grove this year.

Election day is April 18.

Adults on the sidelines bled for the Carmel kids this week. The kids themselves were too busy studying for and taking end of quarter examinations to notice how great swarms of kids from out of town were enjoying the sunny days and bonfires at night on the beach all week while they, the Carmel kids, were going to school every day and cramming for exams at night. But big favor! They won't have to go to school tomorrow, Good Friday! They'll be back to school again on Monday morning. They'll get the rest of their "Easter vacation" April 6, 7 and May 4, 5 in the form of "broken weeks" or long week ends that are appendages of the "quarter system."

With misgivings, the school board instituted a quarter system calendar for 1960-61 on the recommendation of School Board Chairman Gordon Campbell, before he resigned to accept his appointment to the Carmel-Monterey municipal district court bench. He is a graduate of a quarter system-minded school, Stanford. He was consumed with sympathy for the poor kids who had to worry about their end of semester examinations all during their two weeks' Christmas vacation because the examinations came after the vacation. Under the quarter system the examinations could be arranged to (Continued on Page Sixteen)

Youth To Meet For Sunrise Service At Carmel River Lagoon

High school age members of Carmel and Carmel Valley church youth groups will combine to hold an Easter sunrise service at the Portola cross on the knoll south of Carmel River lagoon on Sunday morning.

Members of the Church of the Wayfarer C-Bees, All Saints' Episcopal Church Alsimigos, Carmel Presbyterian Church Los Pescadores and the Valley Highs groups will meet for the service at the river mouth at 5:45 o'clock, ten minutes before dawn.

The Reverend Victor H. Davis will give an Easter reading. C-Bees in charge of the program are Katie Reynolds, Gigi Green, Sandy Simms, Bob Reynolds, Chick Hoffmann, Peter Sewald and Jim Pruitt. Horn music will be played by Carleton Macy, Los Pescadores member, and David Harris of the Valley Highs.

The youth groups will be accompanied by the following sponsors: Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Patnode, Valley Highs; Mr. and Mrs. Hadley Hicks, Los Pescadores; Lieutenant and Mrs. James Cooke, Alsimigos and Mr. and Mrs. James Pruitt, C-Bees.

RUGBY POPULAR SPORT ON PENINSULA

The recently completed Monterey Peninsula Rugby Tournament was well-received by Peninsula fans and it is reasonably certain that the rugged sport will be back for another showing next year. Returning nearly true to form, the Stanford Indians worked their way into the finals against the good USC aggregation and won the title on the accurate penalty kicks of Carmel's Kryk Reid. A former Carmel High grid great, Kryk returned to Bardarson Field and took up where he left off by showing unerring accuracy with his deft left-footed place-kicks. While at Carmel High, Reid handled all the place-kicking chores for the Padres and compiled a fabulous 24-for-25 on his conversion kicks during his senior year.

Stanford had tough competition all the way in this weekend's tournament, defeating the Meraloma Club of Vancouver, B.C., 10-0, the University Club of Oakland, 5-0, and South Coast Club of Los Angeles, 12-3. The Southern California Trojans got over the San Francisco Olympic Club, 8-0, St. Marys, 6-0, and UCLA, 8-6.

Sunday's final game between Stanford and USC was played before a sell-out crowd at Bardarson Field and the fast action seemed to please the neophyte rugby fans. A cluttered playing slate which forced some of the teams to play abbreviated games detracted from the tournament, but tournament officials have resolved to remedy this situation by making the affair an invitational tournament next year and requiring all games to go the regulation distance.

WESTOVER WINS FLIGHT IN MONTEREY OPEN GOLF

Former Carmel High Golf coach, John Westover, took charge of all opposition in the recent Monterey Peninsula Open Golf Championship at Del Monte to dispose of the competitors in the ninth-flight and pick up the trophy for the high-handicap stroke. The likable Carmel High mathematics instructor was close to par throughout the tournament and was at his best in last Sunday's finals against Angelo DeStefano. With the match hanging in the balance in the last two holes, the rugged educator banged in a birdie and a par to take home the handsome trophy. Master of the short backswing, Professor Westover shows uncanny accuracy around the greens and is endowed with the cool competitive instinct which carries him over the tough spots in match play.

CARMEL HIGH TRACK TEAM WINS AT GONZALES

Carmel High's heavyweight track squad won its first meet of the current season last Saturday morning when it downed the Gonzales and Junipero thinclads in a three-way meet at the Gonzales oval. The Padre varsity piled up 64 points to 52 for Gonzales and 23 for Junipero. Carmel's lightweight gang picked up 41½ points while finishing second to the strong Spartan Babes who compiled an imposing 81 points. The Junipero lights found the going pretty tough as they struggled for 19½ points.

Junipero's Lou Davidson was the individual star of the meet as he clicked off a good 2:01.9 880. This outstanding performance by the Cardinal half-miler establishes him as the top middle-distance man in the Coast Counties area and makes him a threat for NCS honors. Charley Todd, with a win in the century and a second in the furlong, was Carmel's top point-maker in the varsity division. Top lightweight performer for the Padres was Teddy Leidig who set a new 150 sprint record at 16 flat.

FINAL LITTLE LEAGUE TRYOUTS SATURDAY A.M.

Little League candidates will go through their final tryout session this Saturday morning at 9:00 o'clock on the Carmel High baseball diamond as the eager managers look on and contemplate the gems they will acquire from the enthusiastic rookie crop. All players trying out for Little League are asked to bring their birth certificates to Saturday's tryout in order that they may be processed through Little League channels without delay. Parents are encouraged to enter into the tryout session to help the players with registration and give the managers a hand with the fundamental drills.

With league play due to start on April 24, Little League managers are pressed for time in getting their clubs conditioned for the opening week's play. The six teams waiting for the opener are Wilder & Jones, Pilot Market, Boys' Town, Sport Shop, San Carlos Realty, and Turner & McEl-downey. Pilot Market is the Little League defending champion and a prime favorite to cop the 1961 title. Jack Miller's San Carlos Realty crew is loaded with experienced performers and figures to give the grocers a severe run for the pennant. The Boys' Town gang is strong in the pitching department and is one of the most spirited teams in the popular circuit. Manager Clayton Neill of the Sport Shop gang is high on his performers and predicts this will be their year to top the field. Turner & McEl-downey was one of the strongest teams in the league at the end of last season and the bricklayers have nearly all their players returning for another chance this year. Jack Cate's Wilder & Jones nine won the second-half last year and knows what it is like to finish on top of the standings. The plumbers figure to be an even better team this year and could be on top when the season ends.

The Little League diamond has been worked over with tender care during the past few weeks and is in big-league condition for the April 24 opener. With new clay around the plate and the pitcher's mound and the infield newly planted, the Carmel Little League Park will rate with the best in Northern California.

AROUND THE DIAMOND

Manager Jack McGaughey and his Carmel Merchant Softball aggregation tried out the Sunset Field diamond last Tuesday night and battled to a 1-1 deadlock with good talent for this season's play and should make a good showing in the Pacific Grove Recreation League. With all the members of last year's club back in uniform for another season's play, the Merchants are solid in all positions except for a solid relief hurler who can take charge in the tough spots. Manager McGaughey has all the ingredients for a good double-AA softball team and has good coaching help in Don Sands and Paul Artellan for developing the young candidates aspiring for positions on the Carmel nine. . . . Carmel

High's varsity and junior-varsity aggregation ran into calendar difficulties during the past week and found the opposition on vacation while they were toiling with the books. A mix-up in vacation dates saw all the other prep schools in the area taking a week's vacation during the past week while the Padres were hitting the books. Originally entered in the Monterey Easter Tournament, the Carmel High nine was forced to cancel out and wait for next year. This year's cancellation was especially hard to take since the Padres are equipped with a good five-man hurling staff which could make a good showing in a two-day tournament. . . . Good luck in the weather department seems to follow Dan Albert, Director of the Monterey Easter Baseball Tournament, as he surmounts threatening skies to always finish the popular diamond go-around. A typical example of the Albert-luck was exhibited last Monday afternoon when it was raining in Carmel and Pacific Grove but continued dry and warm at the El Estero and Monterey Peninsula College diamonds where the Easter Tournament was in progress. Coach Albert was impressed with the power of the B-division schools in the tournament and lauded the pitching talent exhibited by Live Oak, Gonzales, and King City. The Live Oak Acorns were especially dangerous with superior pitching and speed on the base paths. King

Art On The Peninsula

Mrs. Lucille Cutler, a newcomer to Carmel, and her cousin Dana Barker Bates, will have many examples of their varied crafts on display during the month of April at Carmel Foundation Town House.

Mrs. Cutler, graduate of the California College of Arts and Crafts in Oakland, has been director of the Oakland Community Craft Center for seven years, as well as having her own studio and private pupils. Mrs. Cutler says her favorite craft at the moment is mosaics using unusual materials as well as tiles. Her other skills include silver jewelry making use of the "lost wax" method, sculpture, sand casting, ceramics, and brushless painting, for which she is known around the Bay Area. She and Mr. Bates are partners now and are planning to develop their joint venture in a local shop into a resource of instruction as well as of raw material for crafts and as an outlet for their own original work.

Mr. Bates, whose shop has been located in the Craft Work Center, is the son of Dr. Nell Barker Bates of Carmel. Following wide experience and training in engineering, art, and design, he is now experimenting in plastics, which he feels has great future potential. His exhibit will include panels and bowls imbedded with natural materials, articles made from plastics. He will explain a little about some of the exhibits at the regular meeting on Wednesday at 3:00 o'clock.

Anyone interested is invited to see the exhibits Monday through Friday during April, between 10:00 in the morning and 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

The public is also invited to the Wednesday meeting, which will be followed by tea as always.

Three artists, Donald Teague, Helen Beecher and Russ Brown, will be represented along with other California artists at the unveiling of the permanent art collection of the California State Fair.

Valued at over $85,000, the collection will be shown as part of California's Spring Festival from April 15-23 at the State Fair Grounds in Sacramento. The Festival is sponsored jointly by the State Fair and the Sacramento County Fair.

The collection represents the purchase awards made since 1948 at the annual State Fair art competitions. It includes oils, water colors, sculpture, prints, photo prints, weaving, color slides, hand-blocked textiles, ceramics and copper enameling.

Winner of the only watercolor purchase award in 1952, Donald Teague received $500 for Shipyard Singapore. Helen Beecher won two purchase awards in weaving in 1955 for lace drapery yardage and in 1959 for black and white yardage. Russ Brown also won a purchase award in weaving in 1959.

The Carmel artists and other California artists will have their award winning works shown in the Woman's Building during the nine-day festival.

The public is invited free of charge to an exhibition of photographs from the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School opening Monday in the Monterey Peninsula College library lecture hall, continuing until April 14.

The "experimental photography" of Ensign Earl Glass, training aids officer at the Naval school and a former student at the Chicago Institute of Design, will comprise half the exhibition, the rest will be prints from a recent NPGS photo competition. Hours are Monday through Friday 9:00-5:00 o'clock and evenings through Thursday, 6:30-9:30.

An exhibition of paintings and drawings by Carmel, Monterey and Pacific Grove elementary school pupils, kindergarten through third grade, opens in the new library gallery at Monterey Peninsula College on Monday.

The public is invited, free of charge. Hours are daily Monday through Friday, 11:00-5:00 o'clock and in the evenings through Thursday, 7:00-9:00.

The Laky Galleries, San Carlos above Sixth, are showing paintings by Abel G. Warshawsky, whose works are included in numerous European and American permanent collections; also the collection of American painters' work belonging to Mrs. Jerome Carlson of Carmel.

Monday evening, Mr. Warshawsky was guest of honor at a party at the gallery. Mrs. Warshawsky assisted Mr. and Mrs. Laky in receiving the many guests.

Ralph Du Casse, former Carmel artist, now a member of the Mills College art department, concluded a workshop in abstract painting at Monterey Peninsula College today, sponsored by the Monterey Peninsula Chapter of the American Federation of Arts.

This group will present a showing of children's art from Japan in the Monterey Public Library, April 10-16.

Paintings and serigraphs by Alton Raible are being exhibited in a one-man show at the Hidden Village Galleries, 220 Olivier Street, Monterey. Hours are, daily except Mondays, noon-5:00 o'clock and 7:00 o'clock until midnight.

Mr. Raible was born in Modesto in 1918. He studied at the California College of Arts and Crafts in Oakland where he received his bachelor's degree in 1948 and his master's in fine arts in 1950. He has exhibited in national and international juried shows since 1952 and won several awards. His most recent show was in Houston, Texas.

In Carmel They All But Vote

By Marie Rowland

It happened one night when Aage "Andy" Knudsen was working very late preparing dough in his Dolores Bakery. Andy's wife, Helene, was home sleeping, alone, she thought, except for Pyuska, the little scrawny kitten they had found.

Pyuska? It means "derelict" in Danish. But that is another story.

The fact is Andy and Helene loved that kitten. They were not only trying hard to fatten her, but Andy, in his spare time, had tailored a kitty door in the kitchen wall for Pyuska to go and come.

In the middle of this particular night, when all Carmel except Andy was sleeping, Helene was startled out of her sound sleep by screeches and yowls coming from the direction of their living room.

Above the crash of bric-a-brac and falling plants, she could make out the fearful meows of Pyuska.

Helene dashed to the kitten's aid, to be greeted by a sight to remember. Two monstrous raccoons, probably the boar and his lady, were after their dinner. They had chased Pyuska through the kitty door, through the kitchen into the living room. Around and round they had gone from sofa to chair tops, to TV, up lamp bases, to window ledge, thrashing everything from their way and finally to the bookcase where Pyuska crouched, her scrawny tail stretching ceilingward, every hair accounted for.

Helene gave one despairing look at the shambles before snatching up her screaming loved one and flying back to the bedroom, the hungry raccoons two claws behind her.

Throwing Pyuska under the bedclothes for refuge, she picked up her slippers just in time to beat back the pursuing marauders. She then locked her bedroom door and put in an S.O.S. to Andy.

That kitten door was closed next day, on Helene's orders.

That happened some months ago. Pyuska is older now and unafraid. And the raccoons? You'll see them, en famille, any evening, usually at dusk, in the Knudsen patio, where they gladly share their dinner with none other than Pyuska herself now grown fat and friendly.

And then there are the raccoons, anywhere from three to eight, who follow their bob-tailed matriarch, Bobby, into the living room of the Edward Goulds on Pescadero Road to eat their dinner leisurely on the hand-hooked rug before the big corner fireplace.

Big Boy, the magnificent grey squirrel of Dolores and Castro Lane area, reports daily to the cottage of Bill Morgan for his handout of peanuts or walnuts. That isn't news, we know; a lot of squirrels are doing that all over Carmel, you say.

But Big Boy is one step ahead. If Big Boy should happen around when Bill's bright red door is closed, Big Boy is not non-plussed. He just knocks!

LaMae To Dance At Arthur Murray Party On April 6

Ballroom dancer Arthur LaMae will give a free show and demonstration in the San Carlos Hotel on April 6 from 8:00-10:00 in the evening, followed by dancing until midnight. Sponsors are the Monterey Arthur Murray Dance Studios and the San Carlos Hotel.

Mr. LaMae, a professional dancer since 1922, was severely injured in an automobile accident a few years ago, which necessitated immobilizing a hip socket. In spite of this handicap he determined to continue dancing. He set up a program of recovery exercises. His only disability now is a limp when he walks, which does not, however, affect his dancing.

Planners Impressed With High Meadow

Planning commissioners yesterday afternoon looked at plans for High Meadow, a luxury subdivision of 416 dwellings on 250 acres east of Highway 1 above Carmel High School to be developed by Carmel Land Company.

The subdivision was referred to the local commission by the county planning commission for recommendations as it is within the zone of influence of the Carmel master plan.

Donald Goodhue, member of the firm of Hall and Goodhue, architects and planners for High Meadow, showed detailed maps of the development and explained that 160 acres would be left in natural state, and publicly dedicated including forest areas bordering the Highway. Average size of the lots will be 23,200 square feet and each lot will be located in such manner as to take advantage of the mountain, ocean and woodland views in the area.

Chairman Herbert Blanks said the plans were the most attractive and had the most interesting approach to subdivision the commission had seen. Commissioners will make recommendations to the county planning commission on High Meadow next month.

Arthur Holman

Flags at Carmel schools flew at half mast, and Sunset School classes were suspended from 10:30 until 11:00 o'clock on Tuesday morning while faculty members and students attended the funeral of Arthur James Holman, music and physical education teacher at Sunset for the past 14 years.

Two hundred and fifty of Mr. Holman's pupils were present at the services conducted by the Reverend David Hill in all Saints' Episcopal Church.

Mr. Holman had a heart attack on March 7 during school hours. He was taken to the Peninsula Community Hospital Annex where he had a second attack on March 9. He died on Friday.

He is survived by his wife, Catherine; three children, a daughter, Victoria Holman, and two sons, James and Daniel Holman; and his mother, Mrs. Blanche Holman, all of Carmel.

Fifty-one years old at the time of his death, Mr. Holman was born in Devonport, England, on December 9, 1909. He was a graduate of the University of Oregon and a former resident of Eugene, Oregon. His marriage took place in that city on November 2, 1935.

Mr. Holman was a respected and beloved teacher. He was an ardent photographer. Pictures he took of school life are treasured by present and past pupils. For two years he taught a photography class in the Carmel Adult School.

In addition to his music teaching, he played weekend evenings, with Mrs. Holman, in a popular orchestra on the Peninsula.

As a physical education teacher, he worked with the boys at Sunset School. He encouraged them to take part in extra-curricular sports and coached teams after school hours, stressing good sportsmanship. Many of his former pupils became outstanding athletes in high school and college.

Summers for some years, Mr. Holman was employed in the building industry. Later he undertook the major part of the construction of his own home on Carmel Hills Drive.

He was a member of the California Teachers Association.

Any person wishing to honor his memory may do so in the form of donations to the Monterey County Heart Association, Box 1329, Monterey.

BASEBALL FAREWELL PARTY

Jesse Lynch Williams Jr. invited friends to his home for cocktails on Sunday afternoon. He announced the party was his farewell to social activity for the baseball season. It was also his sister-in-law Mona Williams' birthday and she and the guests were surprised to discover she was Lyn's guest of honor.

Her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Faia, were able to be present at the party as they are visiting here while Jack is on Easter vacation from the University of Southern California where he is studying dentistry.

QUARTERS SOUGHT FOR BACH FESTIVAL ARTISTS

Carmel music lovers can render a service to the 1961 Bach Festival by donating rooms in their homes to visiting Festival participants, according to Mrs. Walter Lehmann, housing chairman.

Approximately 75 out-of-town musicians will have to be quartered in private homes during the Festival, July 14 to 23, and the rehearsal week preceding it. Festival participants will begin arriving for rehearsals about July 5.

Needed are single rooms in homes, preferably situated within walking distance of Sunset Auditorium. Meals need not be provided.

Anyone wishing to share his home with a musician during the Festival period is requested to phone MAYfair 4-6637.

Their very own home away from home... you can have one, too

Snuggled calmly into the landscape, this leisure cabin is a weekend hide-away for Rod Lawrence and his family. Just hours from their city home, yet a million miles from routine.

It wouldn't be here today except for a decision Rod and Virginia Lawrence made a few years back. That's when they began to plan in earnest toward the things they wanted out of life. They started in a modest way—with a Crocker-Anglo savings account.

Soon they learned how many other ways their bank could help them manage money better. When their savings had grown to the point where Rod could buy a small apartment house, Crocker-Anglo's real estate loan department helped him finance it. Later on, the C-A trust department helped set up the Lawrences' first investment program. And when Rod's business took the family overseas for a few years, Crocker-Anglo managed the Lawrences' stateside affairs.

They are back now—back to stay. They've just built the leisure cabin you see here... one of the many ways Rod and Virginia are getting more living done. Because they had the good sense to plan ahead. And because they used their bank for all it's worth.

You can do the same. Start by managing your money better... with the many services of your helpful Crocker-Anglo Bank.

Came The Korean War, Never Was Red Cross Appreciated So Much

With the absence of many men who had been called into service, the Carmel Chapter had its first woman chairman, Miss Jane Burritt, in 1944, and Miss Helen Heavey in 1945. Other women in key positions in the chapter were: Mrs. James Doud, Mrs. Frederick Godwin, Mrs. Sidney Trevvett, Mrs. Charles Fuller, Mrs. Vernon Goodwin, Mrs. Robert Prince, Mrs. Horace Dormody, Mrs. Patrick Hudgins, Mrs. A. M. Allan, Mrs. Sidney Fish, Mrs. R. R. Wallace and Dr. Helen Fields.

Mrs. Edward P. McMurtry, a member of the National Committee, Camp and Hospital Service Council, was the guest speaker at the 1945 Annual Meeting.

Men, prominent in the community, still held active leadership positions. Paul Whitman was 1945 Fund Drive Chairman; Fred Mylar, George Knapp, Hurd Comstock, William Burnham and Harold Nielsen were all on the Executive Committee.

The production rooms, busy with surgical dressings, hospital garments and items for army camps, took on additional work at the close of hostilities. Requests from the League of Red Cross Societies for help to the people of war-torn countries were relayed to the American Red Cross chapters across the country, and were immediately met with the production of new clothing. Frances Hudgins issued a call for more workers in August, 1945, to make up 1000 yards of material into garments for the Filipinos. Later, a special foreign project furnished a sewing room for women in Klagenfurt, Austria. Two sewing machines were shipped to them, as well as material. The grateful women sent letters of thanks and a picture of the room to their benefactors.

The Junior Red Cross held a mammoth drive for clothing which was processed and shipped to needy victims of a terrible war.

Following the return of many local service people, the chapter annals begin to add names like: Major Robert Spencer, Lt. Katherine Bier, Commander John Chitwood and Colonel Frank Putnam. All eventually became officers in the chapter. Robert Spencer, Fund Drive Chairman; Katherine Bier, Secretary and Delegate to the National Convention in 1949; John Chitwood, Disaster Chairman and Frank Putnam, Chapter Chairman.

The Red Cross Blood Donor Service ended operations September 1945. There are many who say that peace brought a casualty that should have been avoided: termination of the Red Cross blood donor program. More and more it became obvious to doctors, hospitals and health officials that blood was the pillar of national health. Procurement and distribution facilities were needed to meet emergencies, whether from fire, floods, explosions, storms or war.

Acting on the advice of physicians, the American Red Cross undertook this giant program in 1948.

Dr. Yvonne Champreux was the first liaison between the chapter and the County Medical Society in working out the local agreements for the Carmel Chapter to become a part of the new program. Paul Whitman was appointed chairman and Matthew Jenkins vice chairman to work out details for local blood collecting. New volunteers were recruited and trained for special duties with the bloodmobile operations.

The Carmel and Monterey Chapters joined forces to operate a joint blood program with monthly drawings at the Monterey USO building.

In June 1950 Korea became a battle ground. Immediately, whole blood and plasma were needed for wounded and hospitalized servicemen. As casualty lists grew, more and more blood was needed. Never was the organization, experience and the flexibility of the Red Cross appreciated so much. The program started two years previously as a civilian resource was expanded, almost over night, to meet the new demands of our armed forces.

Paul Whitman continued to head the Blood Program until his death in 1950. He was replaced by Miss Helen Heavey.

Following the closing of hostilities in Korea, changes were made in the blood program and Carmel given a separate quota. The population figure of the community put Carmel in the category for quarterly blood drawings which were held in the American Legion Hall, as the Red Cross did not have adequate facilities.

After the Korean conflict ended, the need for blood continued, as by now all the medicos were convinced it was necessary for surgery, accidents and many illnesses. However, now that the sound of battle had died, so had the interest of many donors, and it was a constant problem to procure as much blood as was used.

Next week: The Carmel Chapter Today.

British Edition, US Paperback Of Clairmonte's "Calam"

A British edition of Glenn Clairmonte's biography of Calamity Jane, which was published in the United States last year, was brought out this week in England. Paperback reprints of the American edition will be available next month.

Glenn Clairmonte, a former Carmel resident and teacher of Carmel Adult School writing courses, lives in Downey, California, after several years in New York as writers' agent and manuscript doctor.

A byproduct of Mrs. Clairmonte's two years' research on "Calam" was considerable new information on Wild Bill Hickock to whom Calamity Jane was married for a time. The chapters in Calamity was the Name for Jane, concerning her relationship with Hickock reveal the western hero in an unfavorable light. This produced a controversy in Denver newspapers and magazines which culminated in an article on Wild Bill by Mrs. Clairmonte in The Colorado Cattleman. Mrs. Clairmonte has also written a biography of John Sutter, and is presently working on a novel.

FROM A
LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

Two new magazines are beginning and this library is beginning right along with them. One is called Atlas. We have volume one number one in the reading room now and we hope you read it and enjoy it. It reprints what the editors believe is the best of the articles coming out in the foreign press, all carefully translated into English. The first issue contains articles from Italy, France, several South American Countries, the U.S.S.R. and Japan. The subjects range from A to Z. This is a thoughtful magazine for thinking people, interested people.

The second new one is called Art in America and the first issue has not yet come to us. It is a new hard cover book like American Heritage, and covers all fields of American art. It seemed like a natural for this community. We really stretched the budget to get this one in. If you do not like it, say so. We can stop it after the first year. It is a quarterly.

Going from the sublime to you know what, an older mystery held us the other evening. Not finishing it, 4:00 o'clock in the morning found this librarian up with coffee and the last few chapters of the book. One theory of the popularity of mysteries is that the reader does not identify himself with the characters. The plot is like a play he is watching. This one is different. It is Jury of One, by Mignon Eberhart. It isn't VERY old, just 1960. But really good! If you can stand mysteries, this one is a real one.

For a village of dog lovers, some of whom must possess a sense of humor, there is How to Live With a Neurotic Dog by Stephen Baker. This is a book which is funny, funny, funny, without being sick, sick, sick. Good even for non-lovers of dogs.

You read the other day about the man who lectured on the control of the population explosion. He had four children. Turns out that feeding all these up-coming people is going to be a harder problem than educating them. William Vogt has a new book called People! He discusses population pressures in the world today. Really a problem everywhere, but much more so in the under-privileged countries who may look with extreme disfavor on the United States with 7% of the world's population consuming more than half of the world's goods. People! by William Vogt.

Our ears have been ringing with protests about the way certain library patrons monopolize the newspapers. Certain day-to-day readers keep the morning papers all morning. One couple on Sunday gets here early and keeps both Sunday papers tied up for a couple of hours, and they refuse to share with others who ask for the sections not now being read. These dog-in-the-manger tactics are unworthy of the persons who frequent this library. We put up signs asking that no reader keep a paper longer than ten or fifteen minutes. Readers pay no attention. We can hardly force people to give up the papers. Right now we cannot afford duplicates of the popular papers. It really is a problem and it hurts us. What to do; what to do. Sadly closing.

Bob Michela Top Captain

Carmel High School graduates Bob Michela and Mike Raggett met one another this month when Mike visited the United States Military Academy at West Point on a student exchange between the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis and West Point.

Bob is a member of the Class of '64 at West Point. He is a catcher for the varsity baseball team and last fall played plebe soccer. He stands first in his class in aptitude and when upperclassmen left for Christmas leave, Bob was 1st Regimental Commander in charge of half his class. He is Top Captain for spring leave. This means Bob is in charge of his whole class while upperclassmen are on vacation.

Mrs. Joseph A. Michela of Carmel is Bob's mother. Midshipman Raggett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Raggett and a second classman at Annapolis.

AAUW Operation Update

Thursday, the Monterey Peninsula branch, American Association of University Women, and Monterey Peninsula College will present the first of four weekly lecture-meetings, entitled Operation Update.

MPC faculty members will be the speakers. The meetings will be held in the college library lecture hall. Robert Nelson, art instructor, will open the series. John McCuen, psychology instructor, will follow on April 13. Charles Mulkey, electronics instructor and dean of MPC technical and vocational education, will be the third speaker on April 20. The series will close with Dr. Idelle Sullens, English instructor, as speaker on April 27.

All Peninsula women are invited to the Operation Update lectures without charge. Coffee will be served after each lecture.

The series is planned for women who have been out of school for some time, and are interested in new developments in various cultural fields.

Music Program At Town House

Jack Benson will be the speaker at the regular Wednesday afternoon meeting at Carmel Foundation Town House next week.

A graduate of the Eastman School of Music, Mr. Benson first wrote for Columbia Records in New York, then became Director of Music at The Cranbrook School in Michigan. He has resided on the Peninsula for the last seven years, combining teaching at Monterey Peninsula College and in the Adult Evening School with music criticism.

He will present a program of listening to and discussion of music, giving a small sample of the course he teaches called Studies in the Processes and Development of the Musical Art.

If there are enough people interested, Charles Dawson, director of the adult education program in Carmel, will schedule a regular weekly musical class at Town House, open to the general public as well as to members of the Carmel Foundation.

Heads Iowa Wesleyan Committee

Elizabeth Matthews of Carmel was elected chairman of the Student Union committee during student body elections at Iowa Wesleyan College last week. She is the daughter of Mrs. C. Katherine Matthews.

Proud Of Former High School

Frank Dickson, his wife, Mrs. Anna May Dickson, and Miss Ethelinda James attended the twenty-fifth anniversary celebration of George Washington High School in San Francisco last week. Mrs. Dickson and Miss James, both former members of the English department at George Washington, returned to Carmel with justifiable pride over three announcements made at the celebration. They were that the University of California has presented the school with the Award of Merit because George Washington freshmen attained the highest grade point average of all first year students for the eighth successive year; secondly, Stanford University presented George Washington with an Award of Merit as freshmen from this school achieved the highest rating of first year students from 89 preparatory schools, both public and private, throughout the nation; lastly, the National Council of Teachers of English presented George Washington's English department with their highest award for excellence.

Attend School Conference

High school principals, Warren Edwards, and boys' vice principal, Charles Sciutto, attended a conference of secondary school administrators in San Diego this week. They will return this weekend after stopping at placement bureaus on the way home to explore possibilities for two additional teachers at Carmel High School next year.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The vital importance for all mankind of the resurrection of Christ Jesus will be stressed Sunday at Christian Science services.

Scriptural selections will include accounts from Matthew,
Mark, Luke, and John of incidents in the life of Jesus, including the betrayal in Gethsemane, the crucifixion, and his resurrection.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy these passages will be read (pp. 292, 293):

"Truth will be to us 'the resurrection and the life' only as it destroys all error and the belief that Mind, the only immortality of man, can be fettered by the body, and Life be controlled by death. . . In his resurrection and ascension, Jesus showed that a mortal man is not the real essence of manhood, and that this unreal material mortality disappears in presence of the reality."

Karen Oleson Married

The chapel of the Church of the Wayfarer was the setting Saturday afternoon for the wedding of Karen Lee Oleson and Milton Lorin Castleman. Dr. K. Fillmore Gray read the marriage service at 5:00 o'clock before the altar decorated with white chrysanthemums and gladioli. Music was played by Connell Carruth, church organist.

Karen was given in marriage by her father, Professor Norman Lee Oleson. She wore a soft green silk dressmaker suit with a round rolled collar, box jacket and slim skirt, and a white orchid corsage. Green leaves and white rosebuds were combined in her tiny crown hat.

She was attended by Durell Decker, a former classmate at Carmel High School, who wore a sheer wool lemon yellow sheath dress, matching veiled flat bow hat, and an orchid corsage in shades of green and yellow.

The bride's brother, Lee Oleson, was best man for the groom and another brother, Richard Oleson, escorted guests to their seats.

Mrs. Oleson attended her daughter's marriage in a marine blue raw silk sheath dress with matching coat, harmonizing veil hat trimmed with small bows and navy blue accessories.

Mrs. Milton Lorin Castleman

Sr., of Riverside, the groom's mother, was clad in a light blue lace jacket dress worn with white accessories.

A wedding dinner for close friends and relatives was held in the Crystal Room at Pine Inn following the ceremony. Pink and white carnations decorated the horseshoe-shaped table centered with the wedding cake, placed before the bride and groom.

After the dinner, the bridal couple left for a honeymoon trip through the Southwest. They will live in Berkeley where both are English majors at the University of California. Karen is in her sophomore year and her husband is a senior.

Among the out-of-town guests were Karen's aunt and godmother, Mrs. Frank J. Metyko of Houston, Texas.

Woman's Club Meeting Monday

Page Lamoureux, Napa Valley rancher and Vallejo businessman, will discuss free enterprise as practised in the United States, and explain a unique program of using dollars to foster young men anywhere in the world to establish a business on a partnership basis, to members of the Carmel Woman's Club on Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock.

Mr. Lamoureux conceived this program. He is assisted in carrying it out by his partner, William L. Graham of Wichita, Kansas. Their program now operates in Athens, Bombay, Beirut, Africa, Thailand and South America.

Mrs. C. Tod Singleton will preside. Mrs. Joseph M. Ewing will introduce the speaker. Hostesses will be Mrs. Wallace Lowry and Mrs. Lawrence Lyon.

The tea committee, selected by Mrs. Carl E. Rasmussen, hospitality chairman, will include Mrs. John M. Desch, Mrs. Lucille Nelson, Mrs. Florence Barnard and Mrs. Peter Kutschera. Presiding at the tea tables will be Mrs. Stephen Olop and Mrs. L. F. Bosshardt. Mrs. F. L. Knudsen will be in charge of flower arrangements placed about the club rooms. Mrs. Guernsey Nevius will decorate the tea tables.

Bestors Back From Washington

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Bestor were in Washington, D.C. last week for the National Convention of the American Congress on Surveying and Mapping. Mr. Bestor, past president of the congress, a professional society, is now on the board of directors and chairman of the international relations committee.

In these capacities he will head a delegation to Berne, Switzerland, this summer to make plans for the International Federation of Surveying and Mapping next year in Vienna. Mrs. Bestor will head the ladies' delegation to the 1962 Vienna meetings. The National Science Foundation will sponsor the American group going to Vienna.

Mrs. Bestor reports that one of the most interesting experiences she had in Washington was seeing Congressman Charles M. Teague, representative from this district, during the debate on the minimum wage law in Congress, and visiting Mr. Teague after he left the floor of the House.

Episcopal Churchwomen To Meet

A combined United Thank Offering and General Meeting of All Saints' Episcopal Churchwomen will be held on April 6. The Holy Communion Service will be celebrated at 10:30 o'clock in the morning, followed by a business meeting in the Parish Hall. Luncheon will be served by the Lydian Sewing Guild at 12:30. Reservations are absolutely necessary. They may be made by telephoning Mrs. Harry Outcault, MA 4-2376 or Mrs. Arthur Templeman, MA 4-6079.

Following the luncheon, Mrs. William Goodwin, UTO Chairman for the Diocese of California, will give a talk.

Bain Awarded Letter

Bain Smith, a student at Shattuck School, Faribault, Minnesota, was presented recently with his varsity letter as a member of the school's swimming team. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond M. Smith.

John And Jeffrey Christened

The twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Horning, John Arthur and Jeffrey Alan, were christened on Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock. Dr. K. Fillmore Gray officiated at the ceremony which took place at the home of the twins' paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Roy Horning. In addition to their parents and paternal grandparents, those who attended the christening were John and Jeffrey's maternal grandparents, Mr.

and Mrs. Colin Chambers of Monterey, their aunt, Christine Chambers, their uncle, Arthur Horning, Sally Bennett, David Vincent and William Hicks.

Following the ceremony, friends of the twins' parents and grandparents were invited to a reception and to meet the three-months-old boys who received in their play-pen, clad in white knit suits and undisturbed by admirers.

Their parents, Andy and Virginia, are both students at Sacramento City College. Andy is majoring in business; Virginia in education. They brought the twins here for Easter vacation and are staying with Andy's parents.

Alexander Victor

Alexander Ferdinand Victor of Pebble Beach, inventor, industrialist and associate of Thomas Alva Edison, died yesterday afternoon in a local hospital following a period of failing health. He was 82 years old.

Mr. Victor invented the electric washing machine in 1908; 16 millimeter cameras and projectors in 1923; was responsible for the pioneer world standard for motion pictures; and in 1918 created a safety standard for motion pictures enabling them to be shown in homes, schools and industry also for training U.S. Armed Forces in World War II. Since 1939 he was occupied with designing and manufacturing special devices for the United States and British governments. He was a pioneer exhibitor of motion pictures in India and Oriental countries, 1895-96. In 1910 he established and became president and chairman of the board of the Victor Animatograph Corporation of Davenport, Iowa.

He came to live here in 1945. His vital personality, interest in people, sense of humor and abilities as a raconteur immediately made him an outstanding character in the community. He was respected among his business and personal associates as a man of honor, truth and integrity.

Mr. Victor was born in Bolinas, Sweden, on June 20, 1878. He was educated in Sweden and came to live permanently in the United States in 1901. In 1919 he was naturalized as a citizen.

Until his death, Mr. Victor was one of the few living men who had been closely associated with Thomas Edison. At the time Mr. Victor met Edison, the former was a headline magician. Edison suggested that he turn his inventive capacities to commercial use, and later Mr. Victor worked in the Edison Laboratory. From this association developed Alexander Victor's career as one of the top inventors of this century. He contributed many articles to technical journals.

Mr. Victor's career in the theatre first brought him to this country. He was billed as a magician, cartoonist and impersonator under his own name or that of The Great Alexander. In 1906 his apparatus burned up and he deserted the stage. Among his friends were many stage personalities with whom he corresponded until the time of his death, including Moss Hart and Charles Coburn. At the request of the American Society of Motion Picture Engineers, he was preparing a history of the early days of the motion picture industry prior to his last illness.

Mr. Victor called himself "an inventor in the electronics and audio-visual fields of science." Until he was hospitalized two months ago he was working on, and hoped to market, a method of reproducing colored television for inexpensive sending and receiving. He also was working on an inexpensive home movie sound camera.

Alexander Victor was a member of the Society of Motion Picture Engineers, the American Society of Swedish Engineers and the Swedish Chamber of Commerce, also the Players Club of New York City, the Adventurers Club of Chicago, Town and Country Club of Davenport, Iowa, the Savage Club of London, England, the Edison Pioneers, and the French Legion of Honor.

Mr. Victor was twice married. Neither of his wives survive him. His first marriage to Leonora Victor took place in Hagerstown, Maryland, in August, 1931. This marriage ended in divorce and his former wife died on May 26, 1957.

His second marriage on August 30, 1945, was to Nora O. Victor. She died on August 30, 1959.

There are no known relatives surviving Mr. Victor except for distant cousins in Sweden.

At his request there will be no public funeral. Paul Mortuary is in charge of arrangements.

CITY CLERK SENATE GUEST

Carmel City Clerk Larry Rose drove to Sacramento Tuesday evening. Yesterday he was the guest of State Senator Fred Farr of Carmel during discussion of a bill before the Senate on the listing of wage scales in legal publications.

Registration Open At All Saints' For Episcopal School

Simultaneous announcements last Sunday at St. Mary's Church, Pacific Grove, and All Saints' Church, Carmel, revealed that an Episcopal Day School for the Peninsula will open in September for kindergarten through fourth grade students.

Registration for the fall term opened on Tuesday and continues at All Saints' parish office, Lincoln Street and Ninth Avenue.

Mrs. Roderick Holmgren will be acting supervisor of the new school. She is a certificated California public school teacher. Prospective teachers may still apply for a position next autumn. Consultants to the school organization are Harold Brown Jr. and John Melville of Carmel.

Highest academic standards will be maintained under the direction of the Episcopal Diocese of California. There will be no racial discrimination. Non-Episcopalians will be welcomed.

The project will be a joint venture of the Pacific Grove and Carmel parishes. Peter Dyer of Carmel is chairman of the organizing board. Mrs. Everett Messenger of Pacific Grove is vice chairman. Other board members include Charles Downes of Carmel, dean of students at Robert Louis Stevenson School, Mrs. David Lane and Mrs. Robert Evans of Pacific Grove, Carmel city councilman Eben Whittlesey and Rear Admiral Lucius Chappell (USN Ret.) of Monterey. The rectors of the two parishes, the Reverend David Hill and the Reverend Harvey Buck will also serve on the board.

Enos Fouratt Plans Move To Temporary Office Until Fall

Within the next ten days Enos Fouratt will move his real estate office to the corner of Sixth and Mission, next to the firehouse. The Ocean Avenue building in which he is now located is to be demolished.

Laurids Jorgenson, owner of the Ocean Avenue property, will replace the existing building with a two-story structure with shops on the ground floor, offices above, around a patio behind a building with entrance on Sixth Street, according to Mr. Fouratt.

Mr. Fouratt plans to move into the new building after it is completed about the first of August.

Fehring Family To See Janet Off

When Janet Fehring leaves San Francisco Airport tomorrow to study abroad at the Stanford University campus in Florence, Italy, for six months, all members of her family will bid her farewell, including her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Fehring of Terre Haute, Indiana.

Today Mr. and Mrs. Ted Fehring drove Janet to Palo Alto as she has to be within 50 miles of the airport tonight, according to university regulations governing the group of students flying together to Stanford-in-Italy. Completing the family party were the Fehring's four other daughters, Jean, home from Chico State College for Easter vacation, Joy, Julie and JoAnn, all of whom attend Carmel schools, and their grandparents, who have been visiting here since the middle of February.

After Janet leaves, the family will remain in Palo Alto until Saturday. Then Mr. and Mrs. Fehring, Joy and JoAnn will come back to Carmel, Jeanie will return to Chico and Mr. Fehring's parents will stay in Menlo Park to visit another son, Dutch Fehring, until they return to Terre Haute.

Janet will be in Europe until Christmas time. She plans to travel in Europe for three months after she has completed two quarters' work at Stanford-in-Italy. She is in her sophomore year at the university but will return as a junior.

Concours Saturday Boasts Greatest U.S. Rolls Royce Show

Anne Cameron

Mrs. Anne Tennant Cameron, mother of Mrs. Janet Dancy of Carmel, died on Monday evening in her home on Lincoln Street between Fifth and Sixth Avenues after a long illness. She had lived here for the past six years.

Mrs. Dancy was born in the Province of Ontario, Canada, on May 18, 1881. She was a registered nurse. Her husband died many years ago.

In addition to her daughter in Carmel, she is survived by a son, Allan Cameron of Jackson, Wyoming, and 11 grandchildren.

Private funeral services were held on Tuesday in Mission Mortuary. Inurnment was in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea.

Martins Here About Studio

Mr. and Mrs. Royden Martin came from Stockton this week to make plans for reopening the Studio Theatre at the end of June. They will produce musicals again this year in the small theater on Dolores Street.

Mr. Martin, an artist, is the son of Roy Martin of Carmel Valley. Mrs. Martin operates a school of the dance in Stockton each winter.

Sports...

operating for him at King City this year and the Mustangs must be considered prime favorites for the B-division title. Buddy Gutierrez took his Gonzales Spartans to the consolation finals in the Monterey Tournament and impressed all the onlookers with the speed and base-running savvy of the valley nine. Small as baseball players go, the Spartan aggregation took advantage of all the opportunities and was good enough to clip host Monterey in the consolation semi-finals. The Santa Cruz Cardinals, equipped with a deep pitching staff, waded through the competition offered by King City, Watsonville, and Salinas to win the first-place trophy in the tournament. The Cardinals showed good base-running, fielding, and offensive power on their way to the title and deserve to be rated favorites to cop the A-division title. . . . The dearth of good playing fields on the Monterey Peninsula establishes this area as one of the most bush-league playing sites in Northern California. The El Estero diamond is an artichoke patch compared to the recreation diamonds in San Francisco and Carmel High's playing field is not appreciated by anyone not connected with the California Physician's Association. With all the enthusiasm exhibited for Little League, Pony League, and Babe Ruth League in the area, it seems that the prep teams should have the advantage of playing on safe and sound diamonds. . . . The Carmel Little League diamond has been enlarged to accommodate the Pony League players for the coming season and this is a big step in providing healthy competition for the Carmel youth. The Pony League encompasses players in the 13-14 age group and gives these lads an opportunity to carry on with the skills they acquired while playing in the Little League.

PINK LADIES SELL TICKETS FROM HARMONIZING JEEP

Members of the Peninsula Community Hospital Auxiliary donned their pink uniforms and from a roving pink jeep sold tickets today for Saturday's Concours d'Elegance at Del Monte Lodge.

The day of the Concours, the group again will sell tickets at Pebble Beach. Illustrated directories compiled and published by the auxiliary will be on sale at the event. The directories contain photographs of this region and mailing addresses of residents. Proceeds from ticket and directory sales will be used for the new Peninsula Hospital, now under construction.

TOTHEROH DIRECTS MOUNTAIN PLAY

Former Carmel resident Dan Totheroh will direct a cast of 200 persons in the outdoor pageant, Robin Hood, selected for the 1961 Mountain Play in the Sidney B. Cushing Memorial Theatre, atop mount Tamalpais.

Mr. Totheroh has been associated with the Mountain play for most of the 44 years the annual production has been given. Dates for this year's performances are May 14 and May 21.

In addition to being a director, Mr. Totheroh is also a playwright. His Distant Drums was produced at the Forest Theater several summers ago.

Easter Services In The Churches

will be The Three Hour services. Special preacher will be former Monterey resident, the Reverend Kenneth L. Sandercock, now director of Henry Ohloff House in San Francisco. Evening Prayer and The Way of the Cross will be at 5:15 o'clock.

An Easter Eve service will take place at 4:00 o'clock Saturday. The choirs will progress silently through the darkened church to the chancel as the Paschal Candle is lit. Baptisms, Evensong and a Children's Party will follow. The High school youth group, under the supervision of Lieutenant and Mrs. John Cock III, will be hosts.

Easter Day services will be held at 7:00, 8:00, 9:30 and 11:00 o'clock in the morning. The last two services will be choral. Assisting the Clergy of the parish will be the chaplain of Robert Louis Stevenson School, the Reverend C. E. Wilson, and the Reverend Carter van Waes from Aptos.

In the Parochial Mission of Santa Lucia, Big Sur, a 9:30 o'clock Easter Day service will be the third anniversary of the Chapel.

CHURCH OF THE WAYFARER

This evening at 8:00 o'clock a Maundy Thursday Communion Service will be held at the Church of the Wayfarer, conducted by Dr. K. Fillmore Gray, assisted by the Reverend Victor H. Davis, Dr. Fred L. Farley, the Reverend Charles H. Burrill, and Dr. E. Leigh Mudge. Vocal soloists will be Warren Roberts, tenor, singing 'Tis Thee I Would Be Praising by J. S. Bach; and Zeala Wright Broadbuss, soprano, whose selection will be All in the April Evening by Diak. Connell K. Carruth will be at the organ.

The Good Friday Service will be held at 2:00 o'clock with music by the Chapel Singers, under the direction of John W. Farr, and with Mrs. Carruth at the organ. They will sing Have You Not Heard? a traditional number and A Legend by Tchaikowsky. Dr. Gray will lead the congregation in the service which will include the hymns of the cross and the accounts in the scripture as well as poetry and prose of the day.

Three Easter Sunday services will be held at the Church of the Wayfarer, at 8:00, 9:30 and 11:00 o'clock in the morning. Chapel Singers, directed by Mr. Farr will sing Mozart's Gloria in Excelsis and Glorious Everlasting by Cousins, as well as Shaw's Fanfare as an introit and the Sevenfold Amen by Lutkin. Mrs. Robert E. Carter will direct the Junior Choir at the second and third services in the selection He Is Not Here But Is Risen by Demarest.

Mrs. Carruth's organ selections will include: Handel's Arioso—Thanks Be to God; Come, see the place where Jesus lay by Edmundson; traditional Easter carols, In Joseph's lovely garden (Spanish), In the tomb the dead Lord lay (Flemish), This Glad Easter Day (Norwegian); Dupre's Holy Jesus is risen from the dead, Lemare's The Thrush, and Handel's Trumpet tune.

Dr. K. Fillmore Gray will conduct the services and preach on the theme: What Do You Know? There will be a special Easter program for younger children in Fellowship Hall at 9:30 and 11:00 o'clock but there will be no Church School or child care during the 8:00 o'clock hour.

C-Bees will meet at the church at 5:20 o'clock in the morning to go to Carmel Meadows for a sunrise service to which other Carmel church youth groups are invited. They will have breakfast together at the conclusion of the service to which all High School youth are invited.

CARMEL MISSION

Catholic services at the Carmel Mission Basilica: This evening at 5:30 o'clock, High Mass of the Last Supper followed by procession to the repository in the chapel. Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament will continue until midnight.

Good Friday service begin at 1:00 in the afternoon with adoration of the cross, holy communion followed by stations of the cross.

Holy Saturday night, at 11:00 o'clock, restored Easter Vigil services followed by High Mass celebrating the resurrection to begin at midnight.

Easter Sunday regular Low Mass services will be held in the morning on the hour from 7:00 o'clock to 11:00 o'clock, and at 12:15.

The children's choir of Junipero Serra School will sing the High Mass this evening, the services at 1:00 o'clock Friday afternoon and the Easter Vigil Service and High Mass Saturday midnight.

THE CARMEL PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

A Good Friday service at the Carmel Presbyterian Church will be held from 2:00 until 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon tomorrow. The church will be open before and after the service for quiet meditation.

The minister, the Reverend Dr. Joseph M. Ewing, will be assisted in the service by Chaplain G. L. Markle of Carmel. This service of music and meditation is made available for those who may wish to remember the crucifixion of our Lord.

Miss Karen Steinke, soloist, will sing Come, Sweet Death by Bach and Were You There?—a Negro spiritual. Mr. Fred Lewis, will include the following in his organ numbers: In Deepening Shadows by Stoughton, Preludio Religioso by Beethoven, When On The Cross The Saviour Hung by Bach, Sortie Solenne by Niedermeyer.

Identical services at 9:30 and 11:00 o'clock will be held on Easter morning at The Carmel Presbyterian Church, Ocean and Junipero. The sermon theme by the minister, the Reverend Dr. Joseph M. Ewing, will be Pushing Back the Horizon.

Organ selections by Mr. Fred Lewis will be An Easter Flower by Worrell, Pilgrim's Song of Hope by Batisse, Largo by Marcello, Prelude and Fugue for the Organ by Mendelssohn and Hallelujah Chorus by Handel.

Miss Karen Steinke, mezzo soprano soloist, will sing Arise, Shine, for Thy Light Is Come by McDermid and Alleluia! by O'Connor-Morris. The choir under the direction of Mrs. Joseph M. Sherry will sing My Eternal King by Marshall and One Early Easter Morning by Marryott. Congregational singing will include Jesus Christ Is Risen Today, O Love That Wilt Not Let Me Go, and The Day of Resurrection.

There will be a nursery at both services for the care of infants and small children.

UNITY TRUTH CHURCH

Unity Truth Church will hold an Easter Flower Service on Sunday in the House of Four Winds, 540 Calle Principal, Monterey, at 11:00 o'clock.

Guest speaker Russell F. Kemp will deliver the message, The Glory of Living. There will also be a violin solo by Taehyun Chang, accompanied by Arlene Imagawa, together with supplemental Easter music. The Reverend Sonja Semiran announces that all interested persons are invited to attend Unity Easter services.

Art Plaxton Sets April 18 Date For Annual Dog Party

district of Carmel, they must be licensed to do so. Otherwise, the pound man picks them up.

There are 400 licensed dogs in Carmel, which Dr. Don Caswell, county rabies officer, says represents about 65 to 70 percent of the Carmel dog population, better than the county figure which is 50 percent.

"More people in Carmel have valuable dogs, and Carmel people are better heeled and more law-abiding," Mr. Plaxton explains.

Last year, for the first time, the dog party was held at city hall. Previously they had been held at the fire house.

"Though people made dire predictions as to the condition of the city hall parking lot the day after, the dogs behaved like perfect ladies and gentlemen," Art Plaxton comments. "They behaved better than the people. There were

come before vacation, he said.

But the execution of Judge Campbell's plausible proposal has revealed some underlying ticks. To be sure, the quarter system relieves the kids of worrying during vacation about exams coming up after vacation; but it also relieves them of their vacation.

People first noticed something funny when they found that school wouldn't be out until December 22, and you'll recall, December 25 is Christmas. But it was all right. The kids didn't have to come back to school until the Monday after New Year's, and though they were having less than a week and a half for Christmas vacation, when there used to be two weeks, there would be broken-weeks later when they'd catch up the days that they hadn't had at Christmas.

The thinking type began to think in the middle of January, so did some of the parents, and all of the no fights and no nuisance was committed. Next day there was paper litter to be picked up but nothing that could be attributed to the animals."

Though he is a "cat man," Mr. Plaxton says he enjoyed last year's dog party and looks forward to this one.

"Dogs under the table; dogs on the table; dogs everywhere. But they were good dogs, all of them."

teachers, who have to correct the examination papers for the four exams of the quarter system instead of two for the semester system.

Travel inclined parents who like to take the kids along found they couldn't do as much with "broken weeks" as with two unfractured ones at Christmas and one at Easter.

Unofficial rumblings of their discontent have been reaching the school board members, so that on March 22, at their meeting, the board decided that before they set up another quarter system calendar for 1961-62 they wanted an opinion survey by principals of all the Carmel district schools on how parents, students and teachers like the quarter system.

All principals' reports were assembled at the superintendents' office yesterday.

The answer to the school board's question, according to Superintendent Mitchell, is that parents, students and teachers don't.
